AFFAIRS AT RALEIGH

Equipment For The National Guard and Practice at Fort Caswell.

THE HEADLIGHT MEASURE

Hearing Before Corporation Commission Monday—Charters by Secretary of State—Other Capital News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 20.—A careful examination of the reports of the inspections recently made of all companies composing the National Guard indicates to Adjutant General Armfield that additional supplies in the way of equipment will have to be provided aggregating about $80,000 in order that the equipment of the Guard in this State shall meet the regular army standard by January, 1910, as required by the Dick law.

The penalty for not being properly equipped by next January is disbandment. Some of the equipment that must be supplied are 318 rifles, 85,000 cartridges, 2,316 overcoats, 484 blankets, 606 ponchoes and 1,022 shelter tents. The allowance for these supplies will have to be made before the State military authorities can finally decide as to whether there can be an encampment this Summer or not. This uncertainty as to the encampment does not involve the Coast Artillery Corps, the four companies of which are to participate in coast defense practice at Fort Caswell June 7th to 17th. All the expense for this mobilization and stay of the corps at Fort Caswell for the ten days is to be paid by the War Department.

Preparations are being made for the hearing before the Corporation Commission Monday in the matter of the requirement that companies operating trunk lines of railroads in this State equip their main line locomotives with electric headlights under the act of the recent Legislature. It was a compromise bill that passed the Assembly in which it was stipulated that the railroad companies effected by the act should equip one-fourth of their locomotives each year until all were equipped with the electric lights, the fight for which was made by locomotive engineers. The Atlantic Coast Line and the Seaboard Air Line have filed the petitions with the Commission praying relief from the requirements of the act. The hearing Monday promises to be a lively one.

The commencement exercises of the Raleigh High School began this afternoon with the class exercises. The commencement address will be delivered tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock by ex-Governor Chas. B. Aycock. Diplomas will be awarded to eight graduates.

Mrs. Pattie D. B. Freeman, who has filed with the authorities at Washington one of the protests against the confirmation of Associate Justice Henry G. Connor as judge of the Circuit and District courts for the Eastern District of North Carolina, walked into the State Supreme Court library today, asked of Marshal Bradley the loan of paper and envelopes, sat down at one of the tables provided for attorneys in preparing their cases and wrote a letter, addressing it to the Department of Justice, Washington. She then walked out into the corridor, borrowed a stamp from the marshal and asked that accommodating officer of the Supreme Court to mail the letter which it developed related to the protest against Justice Connor's confirmation. The incident constitutes one of the jokes of the season and no one seems to enjoy it more than Mrs. Freeman herself, who is always outspoken and "open and above board" in whatever she does in avenging whatever wrongs she believes herself to have been subjected to in her checkered career.

It is estimated that just now there are in progress in and around Raleigh building enterprises aggregating not less than $400,000, especially notable among these are the new dormitory for A. & M. College costing $44,000, enlargements and improvements at the State Hospital for the insane aggregating around $100,000, the erection of new buildings for Rex Hospital costing about $50,000, and a $40,000 building for St. Agnes Hospital at St. Augustin School. In addition to these there are innumerable residences and other buildings in all parts of the city and a large sum to be expended in entirely remodeling the Yarborough hotel at a cost of probably $20,000. More than $10,000 is to be expended within the next two or three months in improvements in the government building here.

The Wilmington-Southport and Little River Co., recently chartered by the State has applied for and been granted an amendment to its charter changing the name to The Wilmington Towing Co., and reducing the capital from $80,000 to $20,000. R. R. Stone is president of the corporation.

F. D. Lethco, Chas. R. Price and A. D. Lindy, of Charlotte, were granted today a charter for The Salisbury Laundry Co. They subscribe $7,500 of the $10,000 authorized capital.

MONUMENT TO WITHERSPOON.

Signer of Declaration of Independence. Unveiled in Washington.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, May 20.—In memory of his illustrious services as a patriot, philanthropist and theologian, a handsome statute was dedicated here today to the Rev. Dr. John Witherspoon, famed as a Scotch Presbyterian minister, signer of the Declaration of Independence, member of the Continental Congress and once President of Princeton University.

It was the first time that a statue ever has been erected in this city by popular subscription to a signer of the Declaration. Assembled to do honor to the memory of Dr. Witherspoon were diplomatic representatives of foreign governments, men in the official and industrial life of the Nation, many of the descendants of the noted Scotchman and others.

The opening address was made by James Bryce, the British Ambassador on, "The Contributions of Scotland to America," and he was followed by President Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton University, whose subject was the "Review of the Life and Service of Witherspoon."

Vice President Sherman also made a short address.

RYAN OUT OF THE LIMELIGHT.

Going Abroad, He Says, Because New Yorkers Are Tired of Him.

New York, May 19.—Among the passengers sailing on the Cunard Line steamship Lusintania yesterday, was Thomas Fortune Ryan, who was asked: "Have you nominated a candidate for Mayor yet?"

"No," responded Mr. Ryan, "I have not. I have no candidate. What the Democratic party of this city needs this year is a first-class man. I have no preference for any candidate. Will I pose for a photo? No. Don't you think I have been in the limelight enough during the last few months? Don't you believe the public is disgusted with hearing about and seeing me? Well, I do, and that is the reason I am going abroad for a few months' rest. I want to get away from New York and the New York public."

TARIFF DEBATE IN SENATE

Aldrich Yields to Several Southern Senators For Free Cotton Seed Oil—Reduced duty on White Lead—Discussion.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, May 20.—The Senate today distributed its attention among the three items in the tariff bill providing a duty on the tanning extract known as Quebracho, on cotton seed oil and on white lead. On each of these articles the Senate was lead by the committee on finance, although the committee was induced to change its original suggestions on both white lead and cotton seed oil.

The lead duty fixed by the committee was originally 2 7-8 cents per pound, but Mr. Curtis, who is a member of the committee today suggested a reduction of 1-8 of a cent a pound, bringing the figure down to 2 3-4 cents and Mr. Aldrich, speaking for the committee, accepted the reduction. Even this increase over the House provision excited sharp criticism, especially from Mr. Curtis' colleague, Mr. Bristow, who contended that the duty would prove to be a direct tax on the consumer. When the vote was taken the committee obtained its usual triumph, the figures standing, 41 to 32 in favor of the Curtis amendment. As usual Senator Beveridge, Bristow, Brown, Burkett, Clapp, Cummins, Dolliver, Gamble, LaFollette and Nelson voted with the Democrats. Senator Borah voted with the Republicans.

Probably the most interesting contest of the day was that over the question as to whether there should be any duty on cotton seed oil. Senators Tillman, Bacon and Money made an

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Presbyterian Hosts of South Opened Sessions in Savannah Yesterday.

W. E. BOGGS NEW MODERATOR

Is Formerly of South Carolina—Presentation of Historical Gavel a Feature—Need of More Missionaries.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Savannah, Ga., May 20.—For the second time in a half century the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States is meeting in Savannah, the first session held this morning resulting in the election of Rev. Dr. William Ellison Boggs, of Atlanta, as moderator. The assembly was called to order by Rev. W. W. Moore, of Richmond, Va., the retiring moderator at the First Presbyterian church of Savannah.

Rev. W. Moore Scott, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, the host of the assembly, delivered a witty address of welcome, reading a letter of welcome from Mayor George W. Tiedeman, who is absent from the city.

Dr. Moore's sermon, the first matter of importance on the assembly's programme, discussed the three essentials of the perpetuation of the influence of Moses, naming them a theology, religion and pedagogy. From this Dr. Moore went into a thorough discussion of the home, proper influence for children, the duties of parents.

Dr. Boggs, the new moderator, was born in Bombay in 1838. His grandfather was a scout under General Sumter. His father was a Presbyterian missionary in India. Dr. Boggs was educated in South Carolina and was a private in the Sixth South Carolina regiment in the Civil war. He served with the faculty of the Theological Seminary of Columbia and later was chancellor of the University of Georgia. Since the close of the Spanish war where he served with the soldiers he has been a resident of Jacksonville, Fla., and now of Atlanta.

A feature of today's session was the presentation of the historic gavel, made of wood from the first church John Calvin ever served as a pastor. The wood has been in service more than 400 years.

The presentation of the gavel to Dr. Moore and the assembly was made by Mr. C. S. Wood, of Savannah, who told the story of Calvin in Geneva, and of the city where the church stood from which the gavel was carved.

At tonight's session Dr. Charles Merle D'Aubigne, of Neuvilly-Sur-Seine, France, spoke on "Calvin, the man and His Times."

The need of more missionaries was emphasized in the report of the Assembly of its executive committee.

FIREMEN MAKE THREAT.

Declare They Will Extend Strike to Every Railroad in South.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Atlanta, Ga., May 20.—There were sensational developments today in connection with the strike of white firemen on the Georgia railroad, the most important being a threat on behalf of the firemen to extend the strike to every road in the South and the formal appeal by officials of the Georgia Railroad to the Federal authorities to take a hand in order to safe-guard the mails.

The following telegram was today sent to the general chairman of the firemen of every road in the South by E. A. Ball, of Toronto, Canada, vice president of the Order of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, who is here in charge of the strike:

"Situation on the Georgia Railroad assuming serious aspect. Company forcing negro supremacy. May have to make the white man's cause a National one. Hold yourself in readiness to convene your entire joint board at Atlanta at the shortest possible notice."

Mr. Ball denies that the striking firemen have been connected with acts of violence on the Georgia Railroad, and intimidation of strike breakers.

United States District Attorney Tate said this afternoon that complaints had been filed with his office by the officials of the Georgia Railroad with regard to delay of the mails on account of demonstrations by striking firemen. He said these demonstrations are being investigated. Many rumors are reaching the city of alleged demonstrations against negro firemen yesterday and today but most of the rumors appeared to be without foundation.

President Taft left Charlotte at 10:30 last night over the Southern Railway, his private car being attached to the regular Washington train.

GREETING TO TAFT

North Carolinians Honor Him at Mecklenburg Celebration in Charlotte.

HIS POLICY TOWARD SOUTH

Inclement Weather Interfered With Exercises—President Alludes to Eastern Judgeship—Eventful Day—Large Crowds.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Charlotte, N. C., May 20.—President Taft came today to Charlotte, the home of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence signed in May 1775, and without entering into the discussion as to the wording of those resolutions of liberty placed himself squarely on the side of those who look back upon this Declaration as one of the first significant steps which led ultimately to American Independence.

In his address to the people of North Carolina late in the day the President took occasion to explain more fully than he did at Petersburg on yesterday his policy toward the South. His own recent appointment of a Democrat to the Federal bench in this State gave him an opportunity to expand upon his views. Mr. Taft urged again the advisability of an intelligent, logical opposition party.

"I do not believe that we are on the point of a political revolution in the South," said the President, "I never have had such a dream. What I do desire and believe we are on the eve of is a complete tolerance of opinion and that there shall grow into respect and power an intelligent fighting opposition party in each State of the Union."

The President's political utterances were received with the same fervor of enthusiasm as his tribute to the signers of the Mecklenburg Declaration. The auditorium where he spoke was crowded in its capacity and he constantly was interrupted by the cheers that rose spontaneously from his Southern hearers.

Eastern Judgeship.

As to his appointment of a Democrat upon the bench in this State, the President declared that through the South he intended to pursue the policy he already had indicated of appointing to office only that man who, Republican or Democrat, can command the highest confidence and commend himself to the community in which he lives.

Mr. Taft's plea for political tolerance in the South and his statement that he wanted the people of the South to know that the Washington government was not a government alien to them, had all the effect of extemporaneous utterances for the President, who spoke without notes or manscript once he had drifted into politics.

Rush For President's Box.

A cloud burst breaking over the city during the afternoon just as the splendid military, floral and civic parade was passing in review of the President promised serious consequences for a time. It set the densely packed throng in front of the reviewing stand into a panic and there was a wild rush for shelter. The President's box was a goal for many men and women and the chief executive had to be surrounded to save him from the sudden rush. In the midst of a storm a passing industrial float became entangled in a live electric wire and tore it from its support, the slender thread of copper sagging almost to the heads of the scampering crowd below.

Wild Confusion.

While the confusion was at its height and to add to the tense situation there was a blinding flash of flame and a loud report not 50 years from where the President stood. It developed later that a quantity of black powder which was to have been used for saluting purposes had been prematurely ignited. No one was injured either in the explosion or in the crush about the reviewing stand.

The President received quite a drenching and for a time it seemed that the frail canvas covering the reviewing stand would tumble about the heads of those beneath. Among these was Mrs. "Stonewall" Jackson. When she had met Mr. Taft earlier in the day she had earnestly exclaimed: "'I am indeed delighted to know the harmonizer of all our hearts."

The parade which was interrupted near its close by the sudden storm was one of the most pretentious ever undertaken in the South. Beautiful floats representing weeks of labor were transformed in a minute to faded, bedraggled masses. On many of the floats rode women and little children in filmy Summer frocks. They were drenched before they could flee to shelter.

President Spoke Twice.

President Taft spoke twice during the day. It had been intended that he should address the public from the reviewing stand, but the storm caused a change of programme and the President spoke first in the Charlotte Auditorium at 4:30 P. M., and then was driven two miles out of the city and spoke to the colored students of Biddle University. Mr. Taft declared that he would not count a visit to the South complete without an opportunity to express to the colored people his interest in them and his sympathy for them in their problems.

Ended With Public Reception.

There was a public reception to the President tonight and he left on a late train for Washington where he is due to arrive shortly before noon tomorrow. The two days of constant going in the heat and dust of the Petersburg battlefields on yesterday and in the drenching downpour of Charlotte today were quite trying upon the President. He was perceptibly hoarse today and when he was speaking most earnestly of his position tomorrow the South paused for a moment and exclaimed amid laughter: "Oh, I wish I hadn't left my voice in Petersburg."

Laugh on Major Humphill.

Among the guests on the platform at the auditorium when the President was speaking of his belief in the Mecklenburg Declaration regardless of the exact language in which the resolutions were accepted was Major J. C. Hemphill, the distinguished editor of Charleston, S. C., who recently in paying his compliments to Speaker Cannon declared: "He was born in North Carolina, the home of the Mecklenburg myth, which President Taft is to celebrate, I am sorry to say."

With a twinkling in his eye after being introduced by Governor Kitchin the President told a story at the expense of Major Hemphill which brought a shout of laughter from the audience and was enjoyed by none more than the editor himself.

"We are here," said the President, "to celebrate a declaration of independence regardless of the fact that there are some unregenerate persons in South Carolina and elsewhere that for various motives, have cast doubt upon the claims."

The President declared that the man who came to Charlotte and was not willing to accept the Mecklenburg Declaration in full, reminded him of the "Tipperary Irishman who was tried for murder after he had hit his opponent a fatal blow with a black-thorn. It developed at the trial that the victim had a paper or very thin skull. Consequently the defendant was convicted only of manslaughter. When sentence came to be passed the convicted man was asked if he had anything to say.

"No, your honor, he replied, according to Mr. Taft, "but your honor, I would like to ask wan quistion, what the divil was a man with a head like that doing in Tipperary?"

Mecklenburg Declaration.

President Taft declared that the important part of the Mecklenburg Declaration as viewed from the standpoint of practical patriotism and practical statesmanship was not the general declarations as to the rights of man but the practical provision for a government which was to succeed that of Great Britain. The declaration, the President said showed wisdom, self reliance and a willingness to accept the responsibility of maintaining a government of law and order.

War Between The States.

Mr. Taft turned from a discussion of revolutionary days to more modern times. He spoke of the war between the States and said: "You in the Southland had the troubles, the suffering, the sad losses burned into your hearts with much more emphasis than we in the Northland, because here was the center of the war, and it is entirely natural that in the forty years which have succeeded the war, there should continue a bitterness of feeling that time and long time could only erase; but when we look back I think we must congratulate ourselves that the feeling has so largely disap-

THE KINSTON SENSATION

Longfellow's Bond Placed at $3,000 and Will Probably be Given Today—Conflicting Testimony Is Brought Out.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Kinston, N. C., May 20.—Mr. J. S. Longfellow was arraigned in court this morning on a charge of bigamy as set forth in this correspondence yesterday. On behalf of the State, Mrs. Longfellow No. 2, formerly Miss Bruce Swift, of Kinston, made an affidavit that she was married to Longfellow in Norfolk on May 1st between 5 and 9 o'clock P. M. by a Rev. Mr. Wingate; that they left Norfolk later and visited other cities and among them her home in Kinston, everywhere being known as Mr. and Mrs. Longfellow.

A counter affidavit by the defendan showing his marriage to his wife No. 1, whose home is in Wilmington, denies absolutely any form of marriage to Miss Swift and declared that there has been no cause whatever on his part for divorce proceedings on the part of Mrs. Longfellow No. 1.

A continuance was asked until the August term of court in order to procure the attendance of material witnesses.

During the trial a statement of the prosecuting witness, Miss Swift, in regard to a conversation with Mr. Wooten, attorney for the defense, brought that gentleman up with a statement that Miss Swift had practically admitted to him in the presence of witnesses that there had been no marriage. This, however, she claims is a misunderstanding on his doubtedly give the bond tomorrow.

Inability of the visitors to connect with Howard and their rather dumb playing combined with safe hits by Smith and Levy in the first inning, gave the locals the first game of the Goldsboro series at League Park yesterday afternoon. Despite the threatening weather and slow dirzzle that threatened to break up the game at any moment, more than five hundred people witnessed the opening of the League in this city with the Giants. However, the ceremonies of the opening and the exercises of raising the pennant were postponed until next Thursday.

The Wilmington team lined up in rather changed order from the Wilson games, Levy appearing on first base and Sharpe taking shortstop. Levy held the initial sack to great satisfaction and was in fine form at bat, having two hits credited to him with a number of difficult put-outs. Capt. Smith accepted all chances and while this may show to his disadvantage sometimes in the error column, it counts wonderfully for the success of the team. The game in detail was as follows:

First Inning—Seal out, pitcher to first; Gettig was safe on error of Smith on difficult stop; Crockett bunted safely; Zanelli hit to right and on fielder's choice Crockett was out, Riley to Fox, Gettig at third; Mangas out, Fox to Sharp. Wilmington: Sharpe was hit by pitched ball and went to second on error of first base; Streaser popped up to first and was safe; Smith singled to centre, scoring Sharpe and Streaser; Smith took third; Fox popped out to catcher and Smith was doubled, catcher to third.

Second—Wagner walks; Kelly sacrificed; Stubbe fanned; Storhe fanned. Wilmington: Riley singled to left; Jayes was safe on infield hit; Howard out for attempting to bunt on third strike; Sharpe fanned; Streaser singled to left; Smith with three men on bases, fanned the ocean breezes.

Third—Seal was out, third to first; Gettig out, short to first; Crockett fanned. Wilmington: Kite drew a pass; Levy made an infield hit; Fox drew a pass, advancing Kite and Levy a base; Riley up and an effort was made to take out Storhe but he had already delivered a ball to Riley and this was not permitted; Riley saved him by fanning; Jayes was out, pitcher to first and Kite scored, but Levy was thrown out at the plate.

Fourth—Zanelli out, third to first; Mangas flew out to right; Wagner out, third to first. Wilmington: Howard was safe on error of third, and took second on bad throw to first; Sharpe flew out to deep centre; Streaser sacrificed; Smith popped out to Crockett.

Fifth—Kelly safe on error of first; Stubbe singled to left; Storhe singled to centre, filling the bases with none out; Seal up and Kelly was out on attempted squeeze play home; Seal hit to short who executed a fast double via second and first. Wilmington: Kite out, second to first; Levy flew out long to left; Fox fanned.

Sixth—Gettig out, second to first; Crockett out, pitcher to first; Zanelli hit safely to centre; Mangas fanned. Wilmington: Riley out, pitcher to first; Jayes flew to short; Howard out, pitcher to first.

Seventh—Wagner fanned; Kelly fanned; Stubbe flew out to right. Wilmington: Sharpe fouled out to third; Streaser flew to second; Smith to rightfield fence.

Eighth—Storhe fanned; Seal flew out on a sensational running catch by Jayes in deep centre; Gettig out, second to first. Wilmington: Kite out, catcher to first; Levy, second to first; Fox, pitcher to first.

Ninth—Crockett out, difficult stop by Smith to first; Zanelli drew a pass; Mangas fanned; Wagner fanned.

MUSIC AND CHARACTER.

Apropos the May Music Festival, which is to be held here during the coming week, thanks to the untiring efforts and the unselfish devotion of a few of the good women of the city, the following from a recent issue of the Musical News under the above title will be read with interest:

It is slowly being recognized by the community that music, to have any real justification at all, must be allowed its proper share in the formation of character, and in the moral training of the generation of tomorrow. Of course, a man may become a millionaire or a prominent politician without having a spark of the divine fire in his composition; he may make corners without knowing anything at all about counterpoint; but in the main what keeps the world going is character. That is an essential. The man without it sooner or later fails; the man with it influences, perhaps unconsciously, the world for good. To say this is not to ignore the fact that materialism has also its part to play in everyday life, for no man can afford to neglect the main chance, but at the same time mere materialism will not avail a man in getting the best out of his life, which is one of the chief ends of existence.

Education is too often looked upon merely as the acquirement of a knowledge of certain things which have a recognized value in the commercial market. It is that, among other things which have a recognized value in the commercial market. It is that, among other things, but it is not only that. It is also, and chiefly, the building up of character

Can the effect of music upon the individual be otherwise than beneficial? No art is so potent in arousing the emotions or in quickening the sensibilities, and yet it purifies while it excites. Shakespeare was a man of infinite wisdom, as we all know, and his lines on music, however hackneyed they may be by too frequent quotation, illustrate a great truth. The man that hath not music in himself is to be distrusted, not simply because he is unmusical, but because he has never been subject to its beneficent influence.

During the last thirty-five years music has been a compulsory subject in elementary education. Who can measure the good it may have achieved? Results, unfortunately, are not in proportion to the trouble involved, and in the great majority of cases music is dropped when schooldays cease. This is a thousand pities, but even so music may claim some portion of the credit due to our schools for introducing a leaven of refinement into the life of the nation as well as for reducing the prison rate. The interest which is being displayed in the teaching of music in secondary schools, the activity in the concert world, the spread of competition festivals, are all healthy signs of a desire to make music universally appreciated; but to be appreciated it must be studied, and must therefore be recognized as a part of general education. There are plenty of opportunities for the musically gifted, and circumstances are rarely likely to restrain them from the development of their talents. What is wanted is the study of music for the so-called unmusical. With its aid they will, without diminishing their position in commerce, certainly become more useful, as well as more agreeable, members of society. We are far from having attained such a pitch of perfection as that everyone knows and loves real music; but let it ever be remembered that its study ennobles and elevates character, and is therefore a benefit not only to the individual but also to the community.

AS TO MOVING PICTURES.

An editorial in the Charlotte Chronicle of yesterday suggests some thoughts that are quite practical in regard to moving pictures, which have become almost a part of community life in these latter days of thought transmission and wireless telegraphy. The observations of the Chronicle are really worth while and are as follows:

"The moving Picture Patents Company has a pretty good sort of a press agent and some of his matter passes, even if it is in the nature of an advertisement. To our mind the moving picture show is an institution that is worth advertising. It is furnishing amusement and instruction to thousands of people; it is breaking the monotony of lives that were otherwise dull and listless and it is serving an educational purpose hitherto undreamed of. In church work the moving pictures have become a factor and in political campaigns and for advertising schemes their value has long been recognized. They are also used for recruiting purposes in the army and navy, for the amusement and education of deaf mutes, exiles in the leper colonies, sufferers in hospitals, and on ocean liners to influence the immigrants to go West. Studies in botany and horticulture, showing the progress of the plants from the planting of the seed to the fruition of the plant have been made, and naturalists and hunters have applied them with equal advantage."

THE McCLUE CASE.

The following from the Richmond Times-Dispatch in regard to a celebrated case will be read with interest the country over:

"Under a decree filed yesterday in the clerk's office of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in the case of J. William McCue and others against the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, in error from the Circuit Court at Lynchburg, a petition for a rehearing is denied. This action means that the insurance company must pay a claim of the heirs to the estate of the late Samuel McCue, of Charlottesville, for $20,000.

In the United States Circuit Court the decision favored the insurance company, but the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond reversed the lower court, and the refusal of an application for a rehearing finally ends the case, unless the United States Supreme Court is appealed to. The petition for a rehearing was filed December 14 last.

J. Samuel McCue was hanged for wife murder after a sensational trial, and the claim was that the amount of the policy was not rightfully due, as he forfeited his life. The final decision, as the case is the only one of its kind ever heard in Virginia, has been long looked forward to with interest by insurance men in every section of the country. Judges Pritchard, Waddill and Dayton presided when the lower court was reversed in November, 1908.

The Baltimore Sun overrules that Norfolk court and contends that the girl ought to be allowed to keep the ring even if she does break off the engagement. Gee! The Sun is simply advocating something that would enable a girl to go into the jewelry business. She could make up her mind about how many rings she needs in her business and then enter into engagements accordingly.

In the House of Representatives at Washington Representative Hollingsworth, of Ohio, made a kick because some Southern newspapers called him "an ass of the first magnitude." Sit down, Hollingsworth, and quit justifying those logical estimates of you.

The Jacksonville Times-Union complains because the Florida Legislature has been in session three weeks and has passed only one bill. Keep right easy, and perhaps the Legislature will forget to pass any but that one.

Business always suffers during the agitation of the tariff and during the making of a tariff bill, but the debate in the Senate has done good. It would be folly to swallow any old tariff bill without looking into it.

Some Democratic newspapers never lose an opportunity to attack the Hon. William J. Bryan. They forget that the Republicans are already elected and that it's too late to go on aiding the opposition.

The protectionists in the Senate are following the lead of Senator Aldrich but we'll bet that none of them would like to go up against him in the matter of driving a trade in which they would get anything out of it.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Richmond is making stringent saloon resolutions so as to prevent a local option campaign. The poultices are temporary. The evil cannot be reformed. The only way to treat that dog is to kill him by cutting off the tail right behind the ears.—Raleigh News and Observer.

—North Carolina will give Mr. Taft a generous welcome, and though there are no signs that he intends to give him her dozen electoral votes, she will give him the hearty admiration and high esteem which are due a sincere friend and great American.—Baltimore Sun.

—As everyone knows, the most striking feature of Charlotte's dress for Twentieth week, is the wonderful street illumination. To make this illumination everything that was desired the Southern Power Company furnished, without charge, 1,600 horsepower of electrical current, 40,000 incandescent lamps throwing out the blaze. We take occasion here to give some voice to the hearty appreciation which is felt by the people of Charlotte toward the Southern Power Company and, in particular, toward Mr. W. S. Lee, Jr., general manager.—Charlotte Observer.

—In an address at the graded school at Wadesboro, Tuesday night, Mr. Bickett is quoted by The Ansonian as saying that if he were a Carnegie, he would have a Legislature of his own and the first law passed would be one establishing a cooking school in every township. The next would require every girl to graduate from that school before license could be issued for her marriage. "The girls looked serious and the boys laughed out," says the Ansonian. There was certainly no cause for merriment in these remarks. Mr. Bickett's idea is an eminently sensible one and if it could be carried out the health and happiness of the people of this country would be vastly increased.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—President Taft has made another appointment giving evidence of a new Presidential policy in dealing with the South. A Washington dispatch to The Baltimore Sun says that this new policy is responsible for a white postmaster at Darien, Ga. His name is T. K. Durham, and he succeeds a negro who was one of a long line of negro postmasters appointed in accordance with the theory that since there were more negroes than white people in Darien the postmaster should be of the colored race. Moreover, the negro influence in the Republican organization was dominant. Ferdinand M. Mann was a candidate, but President Taft refused to appoint him. Good for Taft.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—As we said not long ago, only the advocates of one side of the high tariff question take the trouble to give their views to the men in Congress who are framing the new tariff bill. Congressmen seldom hear anything from those who will be injured by the proposed exorbitant rates on some classes of goods. When the consumers of such articles find that even heavier burdens have been placed upon them they will have themselves to blame. It is possible that no action on their part would help them, but they may be sure that without some action on their own behalf they cannot possibly expect relief when the persons interested on the other side are constantly at work. When they find they have been legislated against they can do no better than to make themselves heard from at the next election.—Charlotte Observer.

TWINKLINGS.

—"What's the most you ever saw in a pot?" "Ten dollars in real life. But I've seen as high as $50,000 in a poker story."—Washington Herald.

—"Does it require any special system to get to be a hundred?" "Oh, no. All you've got to do is just keep on living."—Exchange.

—"Now he's bragging about how he did Venice." "What do you mean?" "Most tourists spend a week in Venice. He did it in a day."—Selected.

—"Don't people sometimes get mad when you rap their feelings?" "How can they?" inquired the press humorist. "No man knows his own failings."—Washington Herald.

—"Your pulchritude is peerless. You are an astounding aggregation of feminine faultlessness. Be mine!" "Sure," responded the girl. "I never could resist that press agent language."—Herald.

—"Some claim that the most ultra modern styles are merely reversions to ancient types." "I believe it. Mrs. Noah and her retinue all wore tube gowns. Ever examine a child's ark?"—Washington Hehald.

PRESSED IN COTTON BALE.

Mysterious Disappearance of Texas Child Explained in Liverpool.

(Concord Times.)

News from Liverpool that the body of a boy baby was found in a bale of Texas-grown cotton unearths the mysterious disappearance of a 23-months-old son of George Haitman, a farmer of Gillespie county, Texas, about six months ago. It is believed the body is that of the Haitman child and that he was killed in a gin and the frail body crushed into a bale of cotton which was exported and found its way to the Liverpool cotton mills. The description answers that of the child, which, it was feared, had met death by drowning in a river. Late in November the father carried a wagon load of cotton to a gin in a small town in Gillespie county, and the baby son accompanied him. The child was missed, but the father thought some of his friends had the boy in charge. The search was kept up for many weeks and a reward offered, but no trace of the body was found. Evidently the tot got into one of the cotton presses and was killed and baled inthe cotton. The body will be shipped to America.

Read this letter from Mrs. Albert Root, Amanda, Ohio. She writes: "I have used Cardui and it has helped me wonderfully.

Before I commenced taking Cardui, I was sick in bed half the time with headache—was hardly ever without it. I have gained 10 pounds since I used Cardui and can do all my housework. All my friends say I look like a different person. Your medicine is a blessing to sick woman."

The Theatre

In spite of the threatening weather big audiences again yesterday witnessed the marvelous exhibitions of the "Mysterious Miss Jewell" at the Crystal Palace and as their predecessors were greatly pleased and wondered much. The mysterious lady's cabinet seances again came in for open-eyed astonishment, so to speak, and not only created surprise, but much merriment, the latter furnishing an attractive relaxation. Her Divination was, of course, again the big feature, and vigorous applause greeted her wonderful display of mind-reading. The vaudeville number furnished by the English novelty artist, Miss Walters received several encores at each performance.

But two more days, today and tomorrow, remain of Miss Jewell's engagement at the Palace.

At The Bijou.

"The Mexican's Gratitude," a thrilling story of Western life, will be the offering at the Bijou today. A ranchman's horse is stolen by a "Bad Man of the West", the horse runs away and is captured by a Mexican, who is taken for the thief. He is carried to a tree and is about to be strung up when the sheriff arrives. Just as the sheriff starts off with his prisoner the ranchman appears with the real thief. The Mexican gives the sheriff a half a earal upon whic is written, "Gratitude," later when Mexican shows his gratitude in saving the sheriff's life and aiding him in winning the girl of his choice.

The Ugliest Beast.

Probably the ugliest beast in the world is a monkey, a grewsome looking animal called the bearded saki. This is so utterly grotesque a beast that it would scarcely be safe to let a child or nervous person see it. The ugliness is not of an amusing kind, but of an evil, sinister nature. The beast has a sort of beard and a countenance unlike anything else in shape and lines. The monkey itself is not particularly savage, but is so hideous that the natives of its country, South America, say that no beast of prey, however hungry, will tackle it. Even a hungry jaguar will starve in a cageful of sakis.

Missed a Chance.

"But, Tommy," said his mother, "you asked for two cakes and I gave them to you. Aren't you satisfied?"

"No, I ain't," growled Tommy. "You was so easy I'm kickin' meself now 'cause I didn't ask fur four."—Philadelphia Press.

One Better.

Englishman (in British museum)—This book, sir, was once owned by Cicero. American Tourist—Pshaw, that's nothing. Why, in one of our American museums we have the lead pencil with which Noah used to check off the animals as they came out of the ark.

Exclusive.

"Now that your son's in college, I suppose he'll be getting exclusive; he'll be getting into the Four Hundred."

"Oh, he's more exclusive than that! He's on the nine already."—Exchange.

Lived 152 Years.

Wm. Parr—England's oldest man—married the third time at 120, worked in the fields till 132 and lived 20 years longer. People should be youthful at 80. James Wright, of Spurlock, Ky., shows how to remain young. "I feel just like a 16-year-old boy," he writes, "after taking six bottles of Electric Bitters. For thirty years Kidney trouble made life a burden, but the first bottle of this wonderful medicine convinced me I had found the greatest cure on earth." They're a godsend to weak, sickly run-down or old people. Try them. 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

The Leading Lard Packer Says:

"Leaf is the cream of lards. There is not enough of it to supply one-tenth of the people."

Here is a frank admission from the leading lard packer that nine-tenths of the people are using other than leaf-lard—the only lard that is even safe. So you see what a chance you have of getting purity when you buy lard. You are simply taking chances on a hog-fat product of disreputable ancestors and doubtful cleanliness.

On the other hand when you buy Cottolene you get a pure vegetable product. It is better and healthier than lard because its source is clean—its process of manufacture is clean, and it is marketed in clean, air-tight cans that shut out all odors and contamination.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an air-tight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

RAILROAD TRACK SUBMERGED

Columbia Train Held Last Night at Chadbourn—Seaboard Runing Late.

Heavy rains that fell generally throughout the State yesterday have resulted in badly swollen streams in Eastern Carolina and already there is delay of railway traffic with indications of even further delay. Atlantic Coast Line Train No. 50 from Columbia, S. C., due to arrive here at 12:35 this morning has been annuled and is held at Chadbourn on account of submerged tracks for a distance of a quarter of a mile in Bogue Swamp, between Hallsboro and Lake Waccamaw, transfer having been impossible on account of the darkness of the night at the point of trouble. No. 51 from Wilmington, due to leave at 5:15 A. M. this morning will be held until 7 o'clock and then dispatched with a likelihood of getting the track in order or effecting a transfer by 11 o'clock. There is anxiety in railroad circles lest the high water will seriously interfere with or greatly damage the construction work now going on by contractors at Pee Dee river trestle, near Florence, S. C.

The Seaboard train from Johnson City, bringing many visitors to Wilmington and intermediate points on two sections from the celebration at Charlotte, is many hours late and will hardly reach Wilmington before leaving time at 3 A. M. today. The second section was six hours late leaving Hamlet and the first section was over an hour late at Hamlet with indications of an even further loss of time before reaching Wilmington.

BARBER SLASHES BARBER.

Serious Cutting Affair in Murray's Barber Shop Last Night.

Falling out over some shaving checks, Thomas Martin and Allen McKnight, colored barbers employed in Julius Murray's shop, on Chesnut street, in the basement of the Southern National Bank Building, engaged in a serious altercation about 9:30 o'clock last night, in which the latter was severely slashed across the throat and head with a razor by the former. The wounded negro was carried immediately to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Ralph B. Seem, who pronounced his wounds as serious but not necessarily fatal.

Martin escaped in the darkness before an officer arrived and was lat- been captured at a late hour last night. er captured at a late hour last night hard to learn, but it seems that after disputing over the ownership of a few checks the negroes came to blows. Martin snatched up a razor and made two successful rakes at his antagonist, making his escape immediately afterwards. A bootblack was in the shop at the time and as soon as he saw the blood from McKnight's wound he went in search of a physician. He met Patrolman R. L. Rouse, who went to the shop, and finding the negro in a serious condition, sent for the hospital ambulance. Martin was later arrested at the instance of Assistant Chief of Police Burnett at the barber's home on Church, between Sixth and Seventh streets. He had been drinking some and was locked up at the police station.

Some Brief Pick-ups.

It is understood that Manager Gwaltney has his peepers on one or two other good men who will don Sailor uniforms before the last of next week. A pitcher arrived yesterday and will be given trial.

No other games on the Eastern League circuit yesterday and Wilmington is pulling up to the first division. The team will be materially strengthened within a few days and pennant-winning ball will again be in order.

Capt. Dick Smith was right there with the goods yesterday. With a favorable wind yesterday afternoon his long drive to left field would have gone over the fence. Capt. Dick is playing conscientious ball. He accepts all chances and many an error credited to him is a hit cut off for the opposing team.

"Umps" McLaughlin was welcomed by the local fans yesterday and here's hoping he will equal his record last year in the Carolina Association when he was the only umpire that finished the season where he began.

LOCAL DOTS.

—There was no session of the Recorder's court yesterday, the officers having failed to run in a single case since Wednesday's session.

—The new police officers elected by the Police Commission Wednesday afternoon were sworn in yesterday noon and went on duty last night.

—K. C. Sidbury, Esq., of Holly Ridge who came here recently to practice his profession, has secured offices in the Garrell building.

—One deed was filed yesterday for record, as follows: E. J. W. Anders and wife and W. D. Pugh, to Robert Nixon, lot on Fifteenth street, 33x155, for $10 and other considerations.

—The picnic of the First Presbyterian Church Sunday School will take place at Wrightsville Beach today. Pupils will take the cars at Front and Princess street at 11 o'clock this morning. There will be about 250 in the party.

EDUCATIONAL RALLY TONIGHT

Open Air Meeting to be Held in Fifth Ward.

Arrangements have been made for a big open air educational rally tonight at the corner of Fifth and Castle streets and a number of rousing speeches will be made by local orators, some of whom have not been heard in the present campaign in the interest of the bond issue. The hour for commencing is 8:15 o'clock, and, the weather permitting, it is expected that there will be a big attendance of the voters of the city who will next week determine the bond issue question.

An Attractive Show Window.

The attractive show window of The Swastika, the popular shoe store of Messrs. Hewlett & Price, fitted up so as to represent a baseball diamond, is bringing forth many words of praise by pedestrians, who invariably stop and take a second look. Players, officials and the spectators of the game are represented by different grades of fine shoes handled by the firm. The unique idea originated in the resourceful mind of the senior member of the firm, Mr. Geo. T. Hewlett.

MOST candies are shipped from factory to retail store by slow freight. Mixing with a miscellaneous cargo in a box car cannot improve their condition, and the time lost takes away their freshness and delicacy. NUNNALLY'S are sent by fast express, direct to the retail store in this town. Always fresh.

HEMENWAY SCHOOL CONTEST

Pupils of Elocution Department Delight Large Audience Considering the Severe Weather—Splendid Exhibits.

Despite the disagreeable weather yesterday the recital at Hemenway graded school, beginning at 12:15 o'clock in the afternoon, was attended by a large and appreciative audience. The exercises consisted of a contest between Side A and Side B, of the pupils in the elocution department, in charge of Mrs. Curtiss Arnall-North, whose careful and painstaking work in developing the talent of the children was reflected in the manner in which the selections were rendered.

No medals or prizes were offered, the contest being merely to decide to which individual and to which division should first honors be given. The judges on this occasion were the members of the school committee, Chairman J. A. Taylor, Messrs. W. E. Perdew and Sam Bear, Jr. Another prominent educational worker in the audience was Mr. W. H. Sprunt, member of the Board of Education. The judges decided in favor of Miss Marie Bonitz, of Side A, whose selection was "Papa's Letter," as deserving of the first honor as an individual and to Side B, as a division over Class A, by two per cent. In the following is given the names of those composing Side A, together with their selections: Miss Marie Bonitz, "Papa's Letter;" Miss Myrtle Vollers, "Wouldn't You?" Miss Gladys Twining, "Poor Little Joe;" Miss Pauline Williams, "How Persimmons Took Care of the Baby." Side B: Miss V. Sanders, "Music in Camp;" Miss Marcelle Smith, "Our Folks;" Miss Jean LaFrage, "Old Mother Goose;" Miss Hazel Winstead, "Tom Sawyer Whitewashes the Fence."

It was also exhibition day at Hemenway and specimens of the pupils' work were on display in each room and were of a high degree of excellence, some of the productions surpassing anything of the character exhibited in any of the schools. The work of every pupil in each grade was exhibited and upon many of the manuscripts and drawings were written the 100 mark. The exhibit was visited by Miss Emens, expert in penmanship, representing the D. C. Heath Company, of New York, who said that the work upon the whole was the best she had ever seen.

In two of the rooms short entertainments were given preceding the recital and the programmes were of a very interesting nature and carried out in a very creditable manner. Miss Florrie V. King, teacher of one of the divisions of grade one, had her entertainment at 10 o'clock, immediately following which were the exercises of Miss Augusta Wiggins' pupils, being one division of the second grade. Both rooms were filled to their capacity and the pleasing programmes were much enjoyed.

At Hemenway this morning at 11 o'clock will be held the Senior class day exercises and the presentation of certificates to the High school. Today's exercises will formally close the school for the present term. Interesting features will be the presentation of the class gift and a review of Hemenway's record for 1908-09 by the principal, Mr. W. Underhill, and Chairman J. A. Taylor, of the school committee.

Short addresses will also be made by local speakers and every patron and friend of the school is most cordially invited. The exercises will mark the graduation of the eighth grade and the exercises promise to be most pleasing and profitable for all who attend.

A number of letters written by her pupils on the subject of "Wilmington" were on exhibit in Miss Bernard's room. These letters which were exceptionally well prepared, were written in answer to a communication from a little Northern girl asking for a description of the city.

At Union school this morning the Senior class day exercises and the presentation of certificates to the High School will take place. The exercises will begin at 9:30 o'clock.

CONSTABLE SAVAGE DECLINES.

Will Not Accept Sergeant of Police and So Notifies Commission.

For reasons satisfactory to himself, Constable W. B. Savage yesterday notified the Fire and Police Commission that he would decline with thanks for the honor, the election to the position of sergeant of the police force made at the meeting of the Commission Wednesday afternoon. The shifting of Assistant Chief Burnett, First Sergeant Smith and the other changes on the force went into effect yesterday and Policeman W. C. Moore is acting sergeant until the vacancy caused by the declination of Constable Savage is filled.

NEW CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

Work Begun Just One Year Ago Yesterday on St. Thomas Pro-Cathedral.

Just one year ago yesterday work was begun on the handsome pro-cathedral for St. Thomas' Catholic church at Fifth and Orange streets. The edifice will be easily the finest of its type in the city, if not in the State, and it is good to know that the work is now about half completed. It will require two years to build the cathedral, which is a model of scientific construction and architectural beauty.

Ascension Day Services.

Yesterday was Ascension Day and was observed in this city by the Episcopal and Catholic churches with appropriate services. Services were held at St. James and St. Paul's Episcopal churches at 1 o'clock and at St. Thomas' Catholic Church at 7 and 10 o'clock. Ascension Day occurs forty days after Easter and is a festival of the church that ranks in dignity and importance with Christmas, Easter and Whitsunday.

Week-end Tickets on A. & Y.

In compliance with the request of patrons up the A. & Y. road and in order to create a greater interest in the seashore resorts around Wilmington, General Passenger Agent T. C. White, of the Atlantic Coast Line, has had the tariff supplemented by allowing agents at Sanford and intermediate points to sell week-end excursion tickets to Wilmington and return on Friday instead of Saturday as heretofore with final limit on Monday following date of sale. This change will allow purchasers of week-end tickets one day longer in the city and will no doubt be the means of increasing the travel to the beach this season.

TO PALE, THIN PEOPLE

Druggist J. Hicks Bunting Offers to Pay for Samose if It Does Not Make Thin People Fat.

Pale, thin people are simply suffering from want of nourishment. They may eat enough, but their food is not properly digested and does them no good.

Samose, the remarkable flesh forming food should be used by all who are pale, weak and thin. It mingles with the food and aids assimilation, so that when taken for a short time, Nature will soon assert her normal powers, and the food that is eaten will give strength and good flesh.

Samose is a scientific flesh-forming food that restores the thin and scrawny to their proper weight, and fills the weak and debilitated with vigor and vitality.

The woman who longs for rosy cheeks and the plumpness of beauty should use Samose. The man who wants to be strong and well and gain health and good flesh, will find his desires accomplished by Samose.

Such remarkable results have followed the use of Samose that Druggist J. Hicks Bunting is willing to pay for the treatment if it does not give the desired results. He makes this offer generally and want all who are thin, weak and out of health to get a box of Samose from them on those terms.

THWARTS CELEBRATION PLANS

Rain Prevented Carrying Out Schedule for May 20th—Few Red Men at Carolina Beach—Shoot is Postponed.

The celebration of the 20th in Wilmington was seriously interfered with by the downpour of rain which came at intervals throughout the day. It began raining early yesterday morning and those who had planned for an enjoyable outing during the day realized upon awakening that the weather would be too disagreeable to allow the carrying out of the programmes of the several events.

However, there was a pretty general suspension of business, the county offices were closed, the postoffice observed holiday hours and the banks were closed. Several hundred people, who had planned for a big trip to Carolina Beach in anticipation of the Red Men's festivities, were not to be outdone by the rain, so spent the day at that place. The programme which had been arranged had to be abandoned, but there was music and dancing all day in the pavilion, and the time was spent as delightfully as possible. The third trip on the steamer Wilmington scheduled for last night was not made. Mr. George Grotgen, chairman of the joint committee of the three tribes of the Improved Order of Red Men, was in charge of the affair.

The members of the Wilmington Light Infantry had to postpone their company shoot and other contests and practices which were to have taken place yesterday afternoon just west of Lumina. The contests will be pulled off Saturday afternoon if the weather is favorable. The military souvenir dance was given last night at Lumina and was a very enjoyable event, participated in by a large number. The Lumina Orchestra furnished the music for the pleasant occasion. Light refreshments were served and all had a most enjoyable time, returning to the city late last night. Tiny United States and Confederate silk flags were given out as souvenirs.

The baseball game in the afternoon was about the only event of the day that came off according to the pre-arranged plans.

High Wind on the Beach.

The wind was rather high on Wrightsville Beach last night, attaining a velocity of about 35 miles an hour, which caused some apprehension among those on the Beach that there would be another such storm as visited the beach last Summer. The water ran up under the cottages on the beach, but no damage was done. The tide began to recede about 9:30 o'clock and by 10 o"clock all fears had vanished. It was stated at the sound that the water was up to the shell road.

Negro Stabbed by White Man.

L. R. Pridgen, a white man, and John McKoy, colored, engaged in a fight at corner of Ninth and Castle streets last night about 9:30 o'clock and during the affray McKoy was stabbed in the hip by Pridgen, who was later arrested and gave bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance before the Recorder. McKoy had not been caught at midnight last night, but it is not thought that he is seriously wounded.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

Commencement Exercises Last Night in Academy of Music—Address by Rev. R. W. Hogue—Announcement of Medals.

In spite of the inclement weather, a large audience assembled in the Academy of Music last evening for the graduating exercises of the Senior Class of the Wilmington High School, which were carried out under the most favorable auspices.

The stage was tastefully set with palms and the colors of the class, yellow and purple, were in evidence in bunting about the boxes and in numerous High School pennants at several points of advantage on the platform. Seated on the platform were the 22 members of the graduating class, members of the County Board of Education, members of the two city school committees, officials of the schools and other good friends of education, with other distinguished Wilmington and visiting people who took part in the exercises. The programme opened with an overture by Hollowbush's Academy Orchestra, which furnished music for the evening, and the invocation was by Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, D. D., Bishop of East Carolina.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. Richard W. Hogue, of the University of North Carolina and formerly the beloved rector of St. James, this city. He was presented in most graceful manner by the Rev. W. A. Snyder, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, and was most enthusiastically received by the class and the large audience. Rev. Mr. Hogue's address was a paragon of eloquence and literary effort. He spoke broadly of education and the responsibilities of an education, touching briefly but most effectively on the present crisis in the schools of New Hanover, declaring the emergency one to be met in the interest of Christianity and good citizenship. He also referred to the playgrounds feature of education, in which movement he was a leader while in this city, his remarks along both these lines bringing forth the hearty applause of his hearers.

His message to the graduating class in conclusion was not of the shallow congratulatory type, but an earnest, eloquent plea for higher living and the appreciation of the responsibilities and purposes of life. As an appeal for personal and civic righteousness, the eloquent address of Mr. Hogue had not only its impress upon the youthful graduates but also upon the large number who sat in the audience. It is regretted that a combination of circumstances forbids the publication of the splendid address of Mr. Hogue in full. It was a beautiful, eloquent, inspiring discourse that was most heartily appreciated by everyone in the sound of his voice.

The presentation of the diplomas was by Superintendent Blair, who briefly addressed the class in most sympathetic and happy manner, each of the four young men and the 18 young ladies, save one, Miss Flossie Marshbanks who could not be present, receiving the most enthusiastic applause as they gracefully bowed their acknowledgment of the honors conferred. Following the presentation gallant young ushers from the student body consumed some time in bringing to each and every graduate a perfect shower of beautiful flowers in token of the sympathetic interest of friends and admirers.

The Amy Morris Bradley Scholarship Medal, established by the alumni of Tileston School, some years ago, was presented by Chairman J. Allen Taylor, of the Joint School Committee to Mr. William Nicholas Post, he having attained not only the highest scholarship of any Senior but led his class during the entire term of four years at the High School. Mr. Taylor paid beautiful tribute to the memory of Amy Morris Bradley and her work in the community, stating that it was she who gave tone and character to the idea of public education at a time when there were local prejudices and difficulties to be overcome. Mr. Taylor was heard with much interest and Mr. Post received the honor with evidences of deep appreciation.

Supt. Blair announced the scholarship awards and the distinctions in the various other classes during the year. The Salem Female College scholarship was awarded to Miss Mary Owen Green and that to the University of North Carolina to Mr. Nicholas Post. The honor of having led the entire school during the year was awarded to Miss Louise Rutland, of the Junior Class, all the announcements being received with marked applause.

The altogether pretty and most creditable exercises came to a conclusion with a spirited rendition of the Class Song, composed by one of the Seniors, and the benediction by Rev. T. A. Smoot, of Grace M. E. Church.

The graduating class this year is composed of the following, who have joined the 163 other alumni who have gone out from the splendid institution during the past few years since the magnificent school property was given to Wilmington by Mrs. Hemenway: Misses Margaret Ella Brand, Annabel Campbell, Lucile Cavenaugh, Mary Owen Green, Anne Irene King, Lucile King, Flossie Marshbanks, Merle McEachern, Custys Elizabeth Meredith, Edith Belle Palmer, Lucile Riley, Mary Kathryn Riley, Mary Schonwald, Annie Hurlbutt Shepard, Harriet Louise Sholar, Carrie McInnis Toomer, Florence Marie Wessell, Bertha Lilly Wiggs, Messrs. George Carmichael, Allan Paul Lupo, William Nicholas Post and Robert Strange, Jr.

Meeting of Alumni Association.

The regular annual business meeting of the Alumni Association of the Wilmington High School will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the High School building. A full attendance of the members is desired. The annual reception to the Senior class will take place tonight in the High School building, the hours being from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock. At this meeting the members of the '09 class will be received into the alumni association.

The Great May Music Festival

MR. CARL BERNTHALER.

Carl Bernthaler, the talented young conductor of the Pittsburg Festival Orchestra, is a musician of splendid intelligence. Born in Stuttgart, Germany, his musical studies were conducted under Mueller-Hartung, of Weimer, Germany. Mr. Bernthaler is assistant conductor of the Pittsburg Symphony Orchestra, under Emil Paur, and has been a member of that famous organization since its inception, thirteen years ago. He is also a pianist of wide repute, and as official accompanist of the Pittsburg Symphony Orchestra, has won the sincere approbation of the great vocalists who have appeared with the organization from time to time. This is Mr. Bernthaler's third season as conductor of the Pittsburg Festival Orchestra, and he is meeting with splendid success wherever the orchestra appears. He conducts with firmness and dignity, and succeeds in keeping his players under fine control. During a twelve week's engagement in Pittsburg last year, Mr. Bernthaler and his orchestra played nightly to record breaking audiences.

The box sheet for the great May Music Festival here next week opened at 8 o'clock yesterday morning at the Academy of Music for subscribers and those who purchase season tickets between now and Saturday at 3 o'clock. The box office will be open again from 8 to 10 A. M. and from 4 to 7 P. M. today and Saturday for subscribers and those wishing season tickets and reservations should make them at once. At the box office when seats are reserved three tickets are given subscribers and these are numbered consecutively. The lowest number indicates the ticket for the first concert Wednesday night; the next highest for the afternoon concert Thursday and the highest number the final concert on Thursday night. Tickets other than for the particular concert indicated by the number will not be accepted at the door and purchasers are asked to bear this in mind.

Fire Terms In Japan.

Fires in Japan are so common that this destructive agency has established itself as a national institution, and a whole vocabulary has grown up to express every shade of meaning in matters fiery. The Japanese language has special terms for an incendiary fire, an accidental fire, fires starting from one's own house, a fire caught from next door, a fire which one shares with others, a fire which is burning to an end, the flame of a fire, anything—for instance, a brazier, from which a fire may arise; the side from which to attack a fire in order to extinguish it; a visit of condolence after a fire.

THIRD OPERATION PREVENTED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill. — "I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was so sick that two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation. I had already had two operations, and they wanted me to go through a third one. I suffered day and night from inflammation and a small tumor, and never thought of seeing a well day again. A friend told me how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her, and I tried it, and after the third bottle was cured."—Mrs. ALVENA SPERLING, 11 Langdon Street, Chicago, Ill.

If you are ill do not drag along at home or in your place of employment until an operation is necessary, but build up the feminine system, and remove the cause of those distressing aches and pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

NOTICE!

Castle street from 10th to 17th, will be closed to traffic from this date during the grading of the new road.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Littleton, N. C., May 19.—Fire at a late hour last night entirely destroyed the barns of Mr. M. E. Newsom, together with two horses, and only by the timely arrival of assistance was the dwelling near-by saved, the family not having been awakened by the flames. The loss, which is estimated at near $2,000, was not covered by insurance. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

—Kinston, N. C., May 19.—Dr. H. W. Battle, the noted Baptist divine, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, will leave in a few days for DeLand, Fla., where he is to deliver the commencement address to the students of Stetson University. Dr. Battle is a gifted orator and the college is fortunate in securing him for the occasion. He is also a sportsman and hopes to take a scalp or two in the fishing line while in that sportsman's paradise.

—Lexington, N. C., May 19.—J. L. Ludlow, civil engineer, of Winston, has started suit for $5,000 damages against the town of Lexington, alleging breach of contract. It is asserted that Captain Ludlow, who had charge of the construction of the water-works, made a survey of the town with a view of handling possible future paving of the streets, charge of which it is said he was to have. The work was supervised by another engineer, hence the suit. Walser & Walser are the local attorneys.

—Winston-Salem, May 19.—Ex-Governor R. B. Glenn reports that during his extended lecturing tour South, under the auspices of the Southern Presbyterian church he raised $25,000 for home missions. The ex-Governor will make several speeches in the prohibition campaign in South Carolina. He will also open the State Temperance Campaign in New Jersey with a speech at Atlantic City, May 30. He will address the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church at Savannah, Ga., May 24th. This will be the opening of his Chatauqua Lecture series.

—Winston-Salem, May 19.—Gaither Bodenhamer, a young man, was convicted in Superior Court today of stealing $2,200 from the Forsyth Bank and Trust Company, at Kernersville in February. The defense put up the insanity plea, but the jury declined to accept it. Bodenhamer was given a term of five years in the State prison. The bank recovered all but $500 of the stolen money. Bodenhamer was arrested by a Pinkerton detective in Washington after he had taken a trip to New York, where he purchased diamonds and other jewelry. These were returned and the money refunded.

—Whiteville News-Reporter: "Captain Harris, who has spent some time in Whiteville looking after timber lands in Columbus county, has recently returned from an extended trip over Mississippi and Louisiana. Captain Harris is a thoroughly reliable gentleman and close observer, and gave the News-Reporter editor a gloomy picture of the ravages of the boll weevil in the Mississippi delta. He says our people have no conception of the devastation being worked by that little insect, and which is making its way eastward at the rate of seventeen miles each year, although one year it made a distance of thirty miles. At this speed it will take about fifteen years to reach Eastern North Carolina, unless its spread is hastened by importing the pest to our cotton fields, which is the greatest danger."

—Asheville Citizen: The flags of the United States are coming to Asheville for the T. P. A. convention. The thousands of government flags and yards of hunting loaned by the quartermaster general to Charlotte are to be in turn loaned to Asheville to aid in its decoration in honor of the T. P. A.'s. Exactly how many of them there will be is not known here but there will be thousands of all sizes from the great silken banners of the war department to the miniature flags intended for decorations. The definite assurance that the flags could be secured came yesterday in the shape of telegrams from United States Senators Lee S. Overman and F. M. Simmons for Secretary Geo. S. Powell of the board of trade, the successful efforts of these officials being lauded to the utmost by those who knew of the move to get the flags.

—Raleigh News and Observer: Ex-Representative H. D. Williams and D. L. Carlton and Mr. L. A. Beasley, of Duplin county, are in the city. They reached here in the afternoon in time to see Fayetteville defeat Raleigh, and will be here several days engaged in examining records in the office of the Secretary of State. They say the strawberry crop was about 40 per cent. short, and while the prices were pretty fair the total receipts are disappointing. However they bring the good news that the huckleberry crop this year will be the largest on record and will probably bring one hundred thousand dollars into Duplin. Sampson and Pender counties. These berries, known as "Sampson Blues", are very large and very delicious, command good prices, and they cost nothing except for the gathering and crating. They are volunteers and in a good year the yield is large. This year the yield will be the largest known with one exception.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, May 20.—Today's cotton market was very nervous and irregular and after making new high records for the season, closed barely steady net 9 points higher to 4 points lower, the old crop generally a little higher, while the new crop showed the losses.

The market opened steady at an advance of 5 points to a decline of 2 points, near months being influenced by better cables than due and the favorable showing of the English spot market, while later positions felt the influence of further rains in the southwest and talk of better crop prospects in consequence.

Trading was quite active and it looked as though some of the recent most prominent buyers were realizing. At any rate prices soon eased off with the old crop selling about 2 to 6 points net lower while the late months showed a net loss of 8 to 9 points. The detailed Texas weather reports indicating that nothing like general rains had occurred in the State and that too much rain in Eastern and Central sections of the belt was offsetting whatever improvement might have occurred in the Southwest, helped the market in the afternoon when early sellers began covering and there was a renewal of active support from Western and Chicago interests.

May contracts sold up to 11.50 and July to 11.26, or 1 2to 14 points net higher while later months sold a point or two over the high figures of the previous day, thus establishing new high records also. There was heavy realizing at the close under which prices eased off from the top. Southern spot market officially reported early were generally unchanged.

Receipts at the ports today 10,570 bales against 13,050 last week and 7,797 last year; for the week 85,000 bales against 99,008 last week and 53,228 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 661 bales against 4,102 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 15 points higher; middling uplands 11.80; middling gulf 12.05; sales 3,825 bales. Futures opened steady and closed barely steady.

THE DRY GOCDS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, May 20.—The dry goods primary market is firmer on cottons, knit goods, yarns dress goods and means wear. Business for Fall is fair but spot trade is generally quiet. Prints are now being sold at jobbers with small dating conceded. Printcloths and heavy cottons are being bought in moderate quantities. Yarns are firm with trading moderate.

MARKET GOSSIP.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, May 20.—The reaction in the late stock market today had no other explanation than the seeming exhaustion of the power of the upward movement. The morning dealings showed animation and great strength, prices of some of the favorite speculative issues rising to record figures. United States Steel had never sold at sixty before, nor had Southern Pacific ever sold at 124 1-2 until today. Readings rise to 159 1-2 placed it at the highest price since January of 1906 and Union Pacific got back to the highest level of the present year. Best prices for the precent year were touched, in fact by a number of important stocks. The selling of Union Pacific and Souther Pacific which followed the declaration of dividends at unchanged rates was attributed to disappointment over the failure to advance the dividends. The Weakness of the Harriman stocks, however, was no greater than that in Chesapeake and Ohio after the declaration of the one per cent. quarterly dividend on that stock, thus fulfilling a long standing expectation of the placing of the stock on a four per cent. basis. Its prices has been advanced many times on recurrent rumors that this action was imminent, but it ran off today with the fulfillment of the prediction.

Speculative profit taking was a principal factor in the reaction. The selling of United States Steel at sixty seemed to be taken as a signal for such porfit taking on a very large scale. The increase in the Atlantic Coast Line dividend was of some benefit to that stock and to others in the southern group but their advances were not all held. London was a considerable buyer of stocks in this market, although the origin of these buying orders were a matter of some doubt. Time money rates were still inclined to yield.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, were $5,082,000. United States 4 registered declined 1-4 per cent. on call. Total sales today were 824,700 shares.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, May 20.—Money on call easy at 1 3-4 to 2 per cent., ruling rate 1 7-8, closing bid 1 1-4, offered at 1 3-4. Time loans dull with weapening tendency, sixty days 2 1-4 to 2 1-2 per cent., and ninety days 2 per cent., six months 3 to 3 1-4 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 3 1-2 to 4 per cent. Sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers bills at 4.8630 to 4.8640 for 60 day bills and at 4.8780 for demand; commercial bills at 4.85 3-4 to 4.86 1-8. Bar silver 52 7-8. GREETING TO TAFT peared, and that we are now a more united country than ever since a decade before the war.

Affect of War on Politics.

"It is true that political divisions have continued in such a way as to perpetuate the lines which were made at the time of the war, but even those lines are rapidly disappearing; and it is the duty of all of us with respect to political partisanship to wipe out those lines as far as we can, and to see so far as we may that in each State the tolerance of opinion shall continue until there shall be respectable parties on both sides of the line, because it is essential to have a good opposition to to have a good government. Now if there is anything that I can do in my administration to make that feeling of union more close, I shall do it.

"I am anxious of course, speaking from a partisan standpoint and leaving my official position for a moment, that the Republican party of North Carolina should be strengthened merely to have a good fight at every election and of course in so far as I may legitimately do so, I should be glad to build up the Republican party. Now I understand that some of my Republican friends think that I have lost sight of the Republican party in putting into office in North Carolina a gentleman not upon the Supreme bench of the State, a lawyer of the highest eminence and learning and integrity, but a Democrat.

Carrying Out His Policies.

"I promised, after I was President-elect, not before the election to the South that I would do the best I could to wipe out the feeling that the central government at Washington, was a government alien to the Southland, and I pointed out that the only way by which the executive could cure that feeling was, in so far as in him lay, to put into office men in whom the community at large, without regard to party, would have the highest confidence. Now I am trying to do that, and I am going to appoint Republicans and I am going to appoint Democrats, striving in each case to get a man who will commend himself to the community in which he lives.

Appointment of a Democrat.

"It is suggested that it is an insult to the Republicans of a district to appoint a Democrat a judge because it is to be inferred that there is no Republican worthy of the appointment and I understand that there are some men in the Democratic party who are willing to make that inference as strong as possible. But I venture to say that when the whole account is added up that spirit will have disappeared and the Democrats who seek to utter it will find that it is not such a popular method of attacking the Republican administration after all.

"I plead to my Republican friends as a vindication and justification for my course, the course of as orthodox a Republican as ever filled the executive chair and a man than whom there was a president who did so much to maintain the standard of the Federal judiciary —Benjamin Harrison, who deemed it his duty to put one Democrat on the Supreme bench and two on Circuit Courts of Appeals. The Federal Judiciary my dear friends to my mind is the strongest bulwark that we have in all this country to protect ultimately our instructions of civil liberay and those of the things in the Federal constitution that we must love and must hug to our bosom if we are to continue this civilization.

"And therefore there is no more sacred duty that the executive has than in the selection of men whose appointment and service on the bench will strengthen it with all the people at large.

Ordinary considerations of political partisanship have much less application to the appointment of judges than they do to others and temporary offices.

Predicts New Era For South.

"I do not think that we are at a point where there is to be political revolution in the South. I never had such a dream. But I believe we are on the eve of such a condition in the South that there shall be complete tolerance of opinion and that there shall grow into respectable power an opposition in each State which shall tend to the betterment of the government as it exists in the State which shall give up occasionally, as you have already given us in North Carolina, a Republican in a crowd of Democrats, in order that we may have represented in the Congress at Washington; your views without regard to some past issues, without regard to the ghost of an issue that really ought not to influence you in enforcing those particular economic views that you really entertain.

"I hope you will forgive me for an apparent reference to political conditions when I am really only extended to you the right hand of fellowship as Americans explaining possibly by inference some of the difficulties of conducting this government as its chief executive."

Address at Biddle University.

To the colored students at Biddle University the President said in part: "I am not oblivious to the troublous times through which you and your fathers and mothers have passed or of the burdens and possibly the cruelties which circumstances have made it necessary for you to bear. But I thank God that those things are passing away and the proper place for you to look is forward and not backward. There is growing over the entire South a feeling due to economic conditions that you will be a necessity for the prosperity of the South if you will only do what you ought to do to make your race happy. You can demonstrate to the white men of the South, by making yourselves members of the community, that it is as much to their interest to treat you well, as it is to your interest to have them treat you well.

Future of Southern Negroes.

"One of the most satisfactory developments of the last ten years is the interest that your Southern white neighbor is taking in your welfare, your education and your profit. It is easy for us of the North to criticise both sides and to express sympathy and hope that things are coming out all right, but the place where the thing is to be done is here where you live and therefore it is with the whites who are your neighbors, that there is to arise that feeling which is to be beneficial to both and to make you more useful to the community that you are.

Things are moving on. There is ground for hope. We are catching up. Now I am not going to give you to understand I don't know the burden of a race feeling and that often times there is an agonized moment when the negro feels that the whole world is against him. The way to meet it is to face it; is to recognize it, go on and do your duty live and labor and be prosperous in spite of it."

The President ridiculed the idea that the two races cannot live amicably in the same country, and the only way to solve the problem is to send the negroes out of the country.

Should be Race of Farmers.

"The time is coming, in my judgement," he went on, "when the business men of the South are going to recognize much more fully than they do today the great advantage the South has in your presence on the soil. Your race is adapted to be a race of farmers, first last and all the time. You are going to do more than you have ever done, in that direction as a result of the education which the industrial schools are giving you."

Ft. Caswell League.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fort Caswell, N. C., May 16.—With the season of the Caswell baseball league over half gone and all three teams going at a terrible clip, the question now is "Who will the champions be?" One week ago 80 per cent. of the impartial fans were willing to concede that honor to the Cubs, who, by the excellent pitching of Smith, had gained the lead, while the poor, downtrodden Tigers seemed to be anchored permanently in last place. This "dope," however, has had a jar as the Senators and Tigers have both put a crimp in the Teddy-Bears' aspirations, and the Senators now lead by the small margin of one game over the young Bears and two games over the "tail-end" Tommy cats.

After the close of the season, June 5th, a post-team will be organized out of the three Caswell league teams under the management of Chaplain Kunnecke, and will be ready to meet any uniformed team in the State. Managers wishing to arrange games should address communications to Manager Fort Caswell Baseball Team, Fort Caswell, N. C.

The probable line-up of the post-team will be: Smith, Howell and Kozelka, pitchers; Shanifelt, catcher; Clerk, first base; McCumber, second base; Fish or Carey, shortstop; Anderson, third base, and an outfielder selected from the strongest guardians of those positions in the league, combined with superior batting ability which at present is hard to determine. This will probably be the line-up used against the Wilmington Collegians next Saturday if the game which is proposed can be arranged.

instense fight against the Senate provision fixing a tariff of 3 cents a gallon on the ground that it would injure the sale of cotton seed and after the controversy had gone on for some time Mr. Aldrich withdrew the provision.

Mr. LaFollette sought to reduce the duty on quebracho, an extract of chestnut bark, used in tanning to one quarter of one cent a pound, but his amendment to that effect was rejected 29 to 38.

Senator Daniel lead the fight for a higher rate on quebracho and thus excited much interest because of the Senator's advocacy of low duties in the past. The committee had reduced the House rate and the Virginia Senator in whose State are several quebracho factories, sought to have that figure restored. He did not succeed and the duty was fixed at half a cent per pound instead of the rate of 7-8 of a cent as he proposed.
